What Every Lawyer Should Know About Oregon's DUI Laws

One of your most important clients calls you after hours—his daughter was just arrested for a DUI, and you are the lawyer he first turns to for advice. The way you handle that call will either keep your client loyal for life, or could have him looking at other attorneys the next time you hit a rough spot in your work together.

Or, your favorite nephew calls you at 2:00 a.m. from a jail cell asking if he should blow into the breath machine. The advice you give could result in the case being thrown out or your nephew having a criminal conviction that follows him the rest of his life. Do you know how to advise him?

Learn how to successfully handle situations like these, and more, during an always interesting and often entertaining hour-long CLE presentation by MacDaniel Reynolds. MacDaniel is a former Multnomah County prosecutor, and the owner of the Reynolds Defense Firm, a three-lawyer firm with more than thirty years combined experience working with Oregon's DUI laws.
